South Dakota
Cooperative Extension Service

Altitude Map of South Dakota

Altitude Map: To be used with the 4-H and USDA Guides to Home Canning.
Each number represents "hundreds of feet" above sea level. For example: "30" = 3,000 feet.

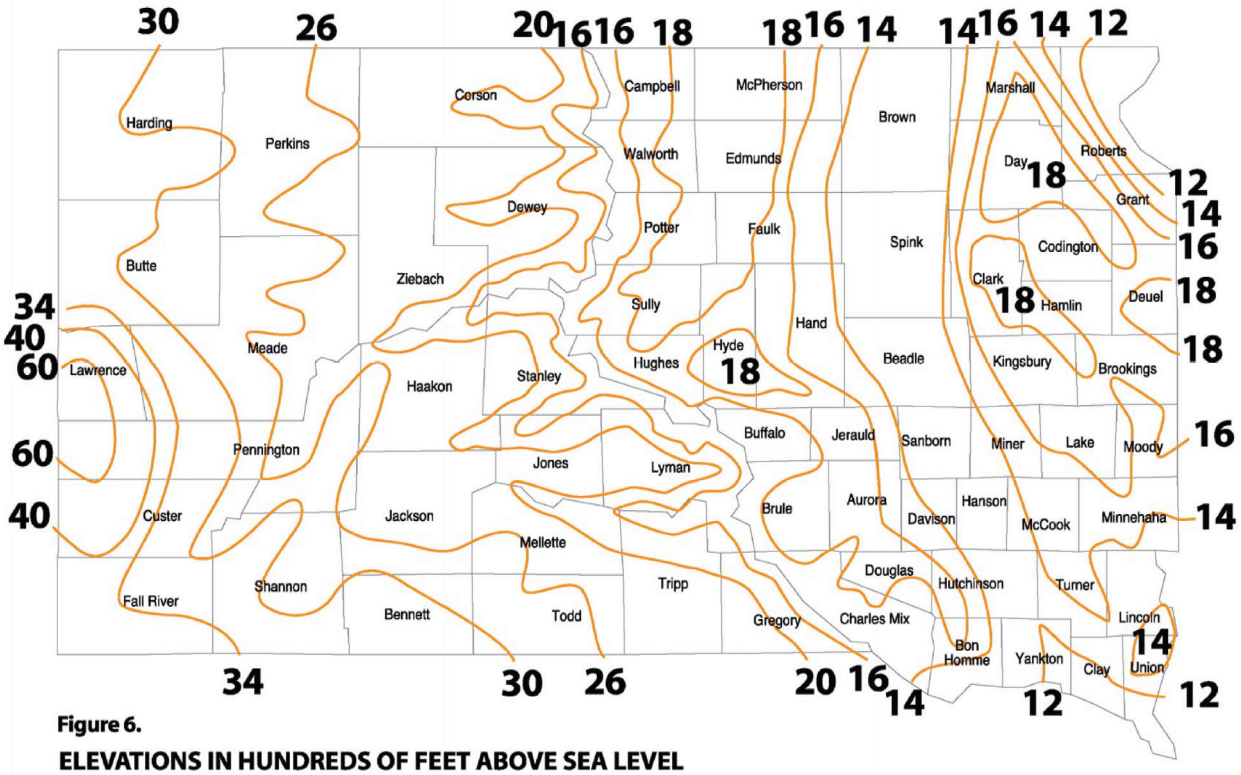

Figure 6.

ELEVATIONS IN HUNDREDS OF FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL

Generalized from Topographic Map by SDSU Plant Science Chart by F.C. Westin Petsch, B.C., S.D. Geologic Survey

South Dakota
Cooperative Extension Service

South Dakota State University, South Dakota counties, and U.S. Department of Agriculture cooperating. South Dakota State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and offers all benefits, services, education, and employment opportunities without regard for race, color, creed, religion, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or Vietnam Era veteran status.

YD4H217. Revised April 2011. Access at http://pubstorage.sdstate.edu/AgBio_Publications/articles/yd4h217.pdf.